It's Not the End ... It's the Beginning.

We're not getting out of this business we love. Not at all. Rather, we're changing our focus from production to promotion and marketing of these same cattle. Increased demands of family plus time and travel in our other show cattle-related businesses have necessitated this change of course. Cows like these deserve more attention than our current schedule allows so we're selling them all in order to allow others to maximize their potential. We're turning them loose but we're looking forward to working with their new owners and marketing their progeny through The Chosen Few and our other, proven channels.

Select From Our Absolute Best On January 7th!
